A BERLIN SENSATION.

Conviction of Marchesa Rita Candio.

THE MYSTERIOUS ASSAULTS.

Turkey's War Preparations—Railroad Collision—An Armistice—Good Old Age.

The Cowboys.

St. Louis, November 28.—At the sixth session of the Cattle and Horse Growers' Association, the committee on conference, with the committee from the Cattle Growers' Association of America, reported, through Simpson, of Texas, the terms of consolidation as agreed upon at a joint meeting at Springfield, Ill., held yesterday. The name of the association that is to be formed will be "The Consolidated Cattle Growers' Association of the United States." The two existing associations shall meet at the same hall, at Chicago, on the second Monday of November, 1886, and proceed to the election of a president, three vice-presidents, secretary and treasurer, and an executive committee of fifteen. The report, with an accompanying constitution and by-laws, was adopted. The election of officers for the National Cattle and Horse Growers' Association for 1886 was then proceeded with: President, General J. S. Brisson, of Idaho. The general declined, with thanks, and Governor Root, of Colorado, was elected president, but declined his entire time and attention. T. David Smith, of Chicago, was made a member of the association and elected unanimously under a suspension of the rules.

Vice-Presidents were chosen as follows: General J. H. Brisson was re-elected first vice-president, Arizona; H. C. Hooker, California; J. O. Smith, Colorado; Benton Cannon, Idaho; Michael Hyde, Illinois; Elmer Washburne, Indiana; F. B. Seavers, Iowa; Justus Clark, Kansas; Frank Plater, Kentucky; B. B. Groom, Massachusetts; M. A. Drew, Michigan; Jay Hubbell, Missouri; Charles E. Leonard, Montana; Granville Stewart, Nebraska; J. W. Small, Nevada; James Harding, New Mexico; O. A. Headley, New York; T. B. Babcock, Ohio; Charles E. Tait, Pennsylvania; B. K. Jamison, Tennessee; John Thompson, Texas; Isaac T. Pryor, Rhode Island; R. T. Burton, Utah; S. T. Colt, Wyoming; A. F. Mercer, Dakota; D. T. White, Old Mexico; Ex-Governor Tarrance, of Chihuahua, Sidney B. Cunningham, of Texas, was selected secretary and A. P. Atwater was chosen treasurer. The executive committee is made up as follows: H. H. Metcalfe, Colorado; Thomas B. Price, Missouri; E. Washburne, Illinois; J. E. Lytle, Texas; J. O. Harkness, Idaho; T. H. Bradley, Pennsylvania; H. J. Faust, Utah; H. L. Mundy, Mexico; Robert Miller, Iowa; J. H. Simpson, Texas; W. F. Thornton, New Mexico; Pleasant Porter, Indian Territory; N. F. A. Mason, Nevada; William F. Berger, Nebraska; L. K. Scofield, Kansas. The convention then adjourned sine die.

The Miners' Riot.

Pittsburg, November 28.—The situation of the coal miners' troubles in the Monongahela Valley is as follows: Last night the sheriffs of Washington and Fayette counties massed their forces at the Fourth Pool, had guns placed in and around each mine, and notified the strikers that any attempt at violence this morning would be promptly and rigorously met. The strikers, on receiving the case, became alarmed and, during the early hours of the morning, came from their hiding places, scaled the hills and made for their homes on foot. Recruiting parties were notified to proceed no further. Workmen in the Fourth Pool are intimidated and none of them made an attempt to go to work today. They all, however, have promised to resume on Monday under the protection of officers. At Pine Run, in Pool No. 2, about 100 strikers gathered about the mines there, and to induce the workmen to quit work a brass band accompanied them. Insulting remarks were made to non-unionists, but no violence was attempted.

Mysterious Assaults.

Pittsburg, November 28.—This morning about 1 o'clock Sam Brittain, who had been accustomed of late to sleep in the office of his son, a well-known coal operator, was awakened from his sleep by a strange man near his bedside, who had a revolver pointed at the old gentleman's head. Brittain asked what was wanted, when the other fired, the bullet striking Brittain on the forehead but glanced and produced but a slight wound. The two men grappled with each other, when another shot was fired, striking Brittain on the right arm. He fell and became insensible, but was aroused later by the fire burning him. He discovered the bed in flames and managed to throw the bed clothes out of a window. This morning when the office was opened he was found lying on the floor in a pool of blood, unconscious. The affair is shrouded in mystery. No cause is known why such an assault should be made. Brittain is 70 years of age.

The Collapsed Trust Company.

The needy unfortunate who tried to get their deposits out found that there was a poor show. So they became very miserable and complained, as it was natural for them to do, "A collapsed Trust Company is bad. But it is not half as bad as a collapsed stomach, worn out by dyspepsia and debility. For the weary and worn-out stomach, take Brown's Iron Bitters, the best preparation of iron ever made, and the price of tonics. Mr. J. A. Hepburn, Des Moines, Iowa, says, "I found Brown's Iron Bitters excellent for indigestion and biliousness." Buy of your druggist.

Turkey's War Preparations.

SALONICA, November 28.—Turkish war preparations continue on a large scale. Seventy thousand troops, 30,000 horses and 180 cannons have been landed at this port during the past four days. The Turks are confident of being able to repel a single attack by either Greece or Serbia, or a combined attack by both. Turkish troops are being massed in the vicinity of Novi Bazar.

A Berlin Sensation.

LONDON, November 28.—Berlin has a sensation of the first order, in the trial and conviction of the Marchesa Rita Candio, daughter of Marco, the tenor, and Crisi. The Marchesa has been prosecuted under fourteen charges of having swindled jewelers, hotel keepers and modistes, of large sums under various false pretenses. She has been convicted of all the charges and sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment, with an allowance of six months for the detention she has already undergone under a previous sentence, less justly inflicted.

A Liberal Offer.

LONDON, November 28.—A story is current in the clubs to-night, that Gladstone has intimated to Lord Salisbury his willingness, in the event of a Conservative success at the polls, to give the whole Liberal strength to the support of government on "all reasonable measures," in order to prevent the necessity of yielding to the ruinous source of placing England under Irish dictation. No doubt is entertained that the Liberal leader's proposal, if it really has been offered, has been accepted.

McCullough's Property.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., November 28.—Letters of administration were granted to-day upon the estate of John McCullough, actor, to the Trust and Safe Deposit Company. The property is valued at $45,000, of which $40,000 is in personal effects. Mr. McCullough died intestate.

Ashore.

NEW YORK, November 28.—A report comes by way of Galveston that the steamer Edmonley, en route from Galveston for Liverpool, is ashore near Hampton Roads. She is an iron vessel of 9,800 tons, and has a cargo of cotton, oil-cake and flour. It is impossible to learn further particulars, as the telegraph office at Hampton Roads is closed.

Collision.

PORTLAND, Oreg., November 28.—There was a collision on the Northern Pacific, near Missoula, yesterday morning. The west-bound freight train, into a special east-bound train, composed of twenty cars of iron from China. The engineer and a tramp were killed. Several cars were wrecked.

Spain.

MADRID, November 28.—A state of siege has been declared in Old Castile, forming the present provinces of Burgos, Valladolid, Valencia, Ovulco, Segovia, Soria, Legros and Santander. It is reported that revolutionary agents with important papers have arrived in the northern provinces.

An Armistice.

BELGRADE, November 28.—An armistice between Serbia and Bulgaria was concluded at 3.30 this afternoon. The cessation of hostilities was brought about by the efforts of Count von Kneveler-Metrich, the Austrian minister at Belgrade.

Good Old Age.

VICTORIA, B. C., November 28.—Thos. Corrie, a native of England, aged 102, died yesterday, after a brief illness. He had never been ill in his life before.

Obituary.

COPENHAGEN, November 28.—Prince Friedrich, brother of King Christian of Denmark, is dead.

LIGHTNING FLASHES.

Senator Stanford left San Francisco yesterday for Washington.

The weather predictions for the Pacific Coast have been suspended until further notice.

Justice E. M. Ross, of the California Supreme Court, will resign in a few days. His term has nine more years to run.

Justices Matthews and Blatchford will represent the United States Supreme Court at the funeral of the late Vice-President.

A number of Senators and Representatives and public officials called on President Cleveland, Saturday, to urge him to reconsider his determination to attend the Hendricks funeral. Telegrams were received from various quarters—among them one from Samuel J. Tilden—to the same effect.

It was understood, Saturday, that, in consequence of a telegram from Mrs. Hendricks and Hon. Oscar B. Hord, to President Cleveland, saying that while they would be grateful at his attendance at the funeral, his failure to come in the present condition of affairs, would not be considered disrespectful. The President will not go to Indianapolis.

BEGINNING TO DOUBT.

One of the Utah Cowboys Has his Eyes Opened.

ARE WE TO BE BENEFITED?

Will There Be a Division and the Creation of a Western Stock Association?

KANSAS CITY, November 21, 1885.

To the Editor of THE HERALD.

Many of the images previously formed within the minds of cattle kings, intent upon an exhibition of their profound knowledge of the cattle and horse industry by appearing as delegates to the National Convention, are being dissipated by a compulsory realization of the true position we occupy. Much of the imputed honor attached to the position of "self-elected" delegate, is Utopian, and many of our party already feel that though the above-named industry is one of considerable importance, there is far greater pleasure derivable in the contemplation of sage brush plains, mountain fastnesses and the strictly incident to our "mountain home."

There are causes that militate against the fullest possible enjoyment of all the imagined prospective honors, appointments into this position; and graded according to their significance, they may be put as follows: We are strong numerically, but not financially; that is the cattle and horses we represent, are free, compared to our sister States and Territories, although I presume, we can blow away this cloud by the breath of execution of our "prospective" greatness; we are strong physically, but not mentally; that is nature has endowed us with strong arms and stout hearts, but we have failed in the application of our minds to the multiplied questions, and their ramifications, that are suggested here at the outset of our convention, consequently we find ourselves hors-du-combat, and in the most admirable position to be "taken in" by the coup-d'etat of some Texas cowboy, with Napoleonic resources, or some portly Chicago butcher skilled in catching western gudeons his sharpened meat hooks; we felt our importance, others did not; we had unbounded pride in the distinction of being cowboy delegates to the National Convention, but the bubble has been punctured and imagery and pride are consigned to the grave of facts and the level of true worth.

To-day we have been in mourning over their death and a solemnity worthy of noble friends has brooded over us.

Some friends are close to us; it is better they should pass away. Work comes by reflection, and our thoughts are the parents of our deeds; an inflation of the mind presents thoughts, hence previous work. We have done but little thinking, therefore have done by little towards effecting any organization by which we could systematically present, vindicate or oppose any measures tending to promote the interests of those whom we represent. It is to be hoped, though, that as the process of removing the rubbish of elation and pride has been so effectively carried on, we may walk on terra-firma, cease mounting visionary chariots of Queen Mab and tread the rocky and stable steps of utilitarianism. Thus, you see, we have been embarrassed. We cannot, at once, increase or multiply the interests which we represent, but we can, though ignorant a measure of "what we do want" and of many of the vital questions pertaining to this great industry, by earnest and faithful attention, rise from a creeping posture unto one of uprightiness. If the stock industry is worth representing, it demands a faithful, earnest representation; if anything can be accomplished at this convention productive in its nature of good, it is incumbent upon the delegates to adopt every legitimate means to attain that end. But, thus far, the questions are: are we to do? Can good be consummated by our labors? remain unanswered by us; they are "too abstract" and we rush on to the "there, knowing not whether we are guided by refracted, reflected or inherent light.

What we may accomplish I will not venture a prognostication, but the truth begins to dawn upon the minds of some delegates that the St. Louis Convention will be barren of beneficial results, as far as Utah is concerned, to all the utter impossibility of a strong cattle and horse union between the East and West. There is no common interest between grazers and feeders—between the East and West—consequently, I believe, a separation will ensue at once, and either Denver or Salt Lake City will be made the central place of the Great Western Stock Association.

But a word about the delegates and their "receptions." Denver was reached according to schedule time, and the inmates of the "decorated cars" were on the qui vive in anticipation of the advertised reception. Alas! for the uncertainty of journalistic certitude! Instead of a committee of "leading citizens" to greet us and extend the hospitality of Denver City and to the grand alameda, we were met by (well, perhaps by the right party) the chief detective of this western country, and a ticket agent to whom we were soon indebted in the sum of $7.50 per delegate. This was a staggerer—a real Sullivan double-striker. But we resolutely bore up, and marched two and two, under the guidance of the afore-said detective to the Brunswick Hotel, where we endeavored to exhibit our great appreciation of the spontaneous reception by vociferously, and in true cowboy style, attacking the winds spread before us. Five hours in Denver convinced us that perhaps we had better go on, so without much ceremony shook the mud from our feet and departed. True worth is seldom appreciated, but I will forbear from further lamentations. We glided on toward Kansas City, meeting with curious glances by station loungers and sympathetic remarks from tender-hearted negroes who deplored the cause of our having to be so far away from "our wives."

One of our cars persisted in getting extremely warm in the axle and we were compelled to ignominiously shunt it off to one side and we with grip-sacks in hand sought seats in other cars. Thus a portion of our fine decorations vanished from sight. On reaching this city, a majority of the delegates determined upon laying over until to-morrow.

Sunday night will find us all at the La Cede Hotel, St. Louis.

SHAMROCK.

Now, Then!

Nearer and nearer the joyous time approaches when present-making will be popular and indulged in by friends, lovers and relatives. To those who contemplate bestowing gifts and keepsakes which will be held in their remembrance for life, we would say that at the jewelry establishment of E. J. Swann & Co. the stock is so extensive, varied and choice that you cannot fail to select whatever you want, from a silver thimble, a tiny gold ring or a pair of earrings, to an expensive watch or chronometer. Silver-ware, gold goods and plated articles of the newest designs and best makes, make up a stock that will suit all classes of purchasers. Call in and examine. The gentlemen of the firm will be pleased to show goods.

"Let No Guilty Man Escape."

To the Editor of THE HERALD: Of course, that means (between you and me and the gate-post) if he is a Mormon, bravely struggling to fulfill the responsibilities he has assumed as the head of more than one family, but mind you, if he be one of "the rest of us," you must move heaven and earth to have the habes corpus act, and—well, every supple-spined, elastic-minded, go-by-on-promise, Vinar-of-Bray judge that can be conveniently reached within the limits of poor priest-ridden Utah!

All Quiet.

WASHINGTON, November 28.—Indian Inspector Armstrong reports to the Interior Department that everything is quiet at the Cheyenne agency, on the Rosebud River.
